FOR DISTRICT JUDGE

The Lyon County Times says
The report that Hon M A Murphy
is a candidate for Governor is erroneous.
The gentleman is, however, a candidate for District Judge. He is a man of ability, and is thoroughly conversant with the duties of the office to which he aspires, and the Times' takes pleasure
in announcing him a bona fide candidate.
He is not one of the men who, when they want office, are afraid to say so. In his official duties, as long as he has been Judge of this district, he has shown himself eminently capable of interpreting the law aright.

No Politics in the Judiciary.

Fresno Expositor, Dem

The term of Hon. Milton H Myrick, Judge of the Supreme Court, expires in January next, and his successor will be elected this Fall. Mr Myrick is a Republican, but the position of Supreme Judge is not a political one, and, therefore there would be no impropriety in his being endorsed by the Democratic party. His position on the irrigation question is well established, so there would be no chances to take on him.

NEVADA SURVEYS.

A Total Cessation of Surveys of Grazing Lands—Bad Outlook for the Future.

The following correspondence is self-explanatory:

OFFICE OF U. S. SURVEYOR-GENERAL,
RENO, Nevada, May 13, 1886.

Hon. Wm. A. J. Sparks, Commissioner General Land Office, Washington, D. C.—

SIR:—The surveyors of this State agree that no public land surveys can be made in this State under your instructions of April 5th, 1886, for the minimum rates allowed by law. They assert that to undertake the work means certain loss

to them, and they know of no reason why they should work for the Government for nothing. They say the only manner in which they can do it at minimum rates, is by having the persons interested in the surveys to provide them with teams, furnish them meals

and lodging, and often men for assistants, thereby decreasing general expenses to such an extent as to enable the Government rates to be relied on to give them reasonable compensation for their services.

The lands in Nevada, "exclusively agricultural" were all surveyed years ago, except, possibly, here and there a little patch. The demand of the times now comes from men who are engaged in the cattle business, or those who desire to engage in it, poor as well as rich, and who find creeks and springs sufficient to provide water for their stock, and possibly allow them to irrigate enough land to raise alfalfa hay to furnish the cattle or sheep with feed during a hard winter. This State affords no attractions for the "settler." There is not a dozen quarter sections in it worth settling upon. Eleven men out of the twelve would die of starvation in trying to make a living. Nothing can be done here except by irrigating, all of which costs at the rate of four dollars per acre per year. Once in a while there is an application for survey from some poor fellow who has isolated himself from civilization and is contented in trying to make a homestead in the wilderness, but they are few and far between. The truth is that next to mining, the grazing interest is and forever will be the main industry of the State. The natural obstacles are such that Nevada cannot be at any time classed as an agricultural State. A greater area is being improved each year, and some little improvement will be shown constantly, but it is perfectly absurd to think of it in that sense with California, Oregon, Washington Territory, Dakota and other places. There are no attractions for new settlements. True, there is plenty of land, but there is no water. What is left in the State is solely good for grazing purposes, and if that character of land can not be surveyed then there is none to amount to anything necessary. For this class of land I have applications for surveys aggregating $100,000. Many have applied to me to know if they could not have the work done by paying for it themselves, but as they could not comply with the Special Deposit law and instructions, I could give them no satisfaction.

It is evident that if your instructions are insisted on there can be no surveying done in Nevada. It is also evident that if any work is done it can not be done at minimum rates, except as I have previously indicated.

I hope that you will give the subject the consideration it demands, and favor such action as will enable the continuation of the public land surveys in Nevada, so that this people can receive some benefit from the General Government, and be given a chance in the race for life. Very Respectfully,

C. C. Powning,

veying instructions of April 5th last, you state that the surveyors in your district will not compete for the execution of surveys at the minimum rates allowed by said instructions; that Nevada is not an agricultural State, and presents no attractions for the settler; that there are not a dozen quarter sections in the State worth settling upon; that the "grazing interest" is, after mining, the main industry; that the demand for lands now comes from the present and prospective "cattle interests," who desire to occupy the valleys embracing the creeks and springs for stock purposes; and that you have applications for the survey of "grazing lands," aggregating $100,000, the expense of which the applicants would be willing to pay themselves, if allowed so to do.

In reply you are informed that from the admissions in your letter, which present the existing condition of the and, agricultural and grazing interests of Nevada in a frank and satisfactory manner, it is evident that further surveys in the interests of "actual settlers," under the provisions of the homestead and pre-emption laws, are not needed at present.

In the event of the survey of the lands especially adapted to the grazing and cattle business, there is no law by which the "cattle interests," singly or collectively, can legally acquire title to the lands which they desire. Being "unoffered lands," they cannot be purchased at "private entry," and titles acquired under the pre-emption or homestead laws are obtainable only through the perjury of the employees of the companies and the subversion of perjury by the companies or their agents.

With the facts presented, I am of the opinion that the public interests demand a total cessation for the present of the survey in your district of lands for alleged agricultural purposes, and that you should discontinue all further action, if already initiated, as to surveys of that character.

Under existing official regulations and the present status of the industries of the State of Nevada, the only surveys permissible are of the lands situated on either side of the line and within the limits of the Central Pacific Railroad Company. If any surveys can be effected therein you are requested to present the data regarding the same for my examination and action. Very respectfully,

Wm. A. J. SPARKS,
Commissioner.

U. S. SURVEYOR-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
RENO, Nev., June 7, 1886.

Hon. Wm. A. J. Sparks, Commissioner General Land Office, Washington, D. C.—

SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of May 25, 1886, directing a total cessation of surveys of so-called grazing lands. Your instructions will, of course, be carried out, but I feel that I ought to make an appeal to you to reconsider the same, and to give you a few reasons why, in my judgment, the surveying service should not be dispensed with to such an extent in the district of Nevada. The effect of your instructions will be to retard the material interests of this State and, figuratively speaking, give it such a "black eye" as the General Government ought not to inflict upon any State or Territory of the Union. Nevada, although she has poured millions into the lap of the Nation, and much of it at a time when it was most needed, has been arbitrarily deprived of her Mint. She will forever protest against the curtailment of her mail facilities, and never fail to denounce the idea that the men who blazon the trials shall be treated so shamefully, and deprived of communication with the outer world. But to believe that the Government really means to withdraw all public money for surveys, except for exclusively agricultural lands, indicates a blow that will nearly paralyze the State, and the case at once becomes one of misplaced confidence. The General Government granted Nevada 2,000,000 acres upon the surrender of the 13th and 36th sections. Of this grant one-quarter has been sold by the State, and the proceeds placed in the School Fund. To now prevent it from having an opportunity to dispose of the remainder is like giving a beggar a crust without any butter. It is perfectly right and proper that Uncle Sam should give every man a farm, but the 160 acre theory is not adapted to Nevada. I reiterate that with the facil-

ties afforded by this office to become acquainted with the topographical features of the State, with the knowledge acquired by constant study of the maps, with the information imparted by those who apply for surveys, and from the statements of settlers, Deputy Surveyors, and citizens on the lookout for opportunities to make legitimate investments, that there are not, to my knowledge, a dozen quarter sections in the State comprising 160 acres in a compact form, covered by natural water, which are desirable for settlement, and which conform to the idea that prevailed when the United States announced a home for every citizen or those who desired to become such. Of the 71,737,600 acres comprised in the area of Nevada, at least 70,000,000 are absolutely worthless for purposes of settlement, and in no sense of the word are agricultural. Of this vast area the Government and State together have not sold or given away, under any and all laws, 1,500,000 acres, and even under the system now prevailing I unhesitatingly assert that it is not possible for both of them in the next twenty years to dispose of 750,000 acres at $1.25 per acre. Of the various grants to the State it still has more than 1,500,000 acres to select. Probably one-third can be sold at the present rates as soon as surveyed and listed. In order to exhaust the grants it will then become necessary to grade the land and reduce the price to fifty or twenty-five cents per acre, which rates may be an inducement to stock-raisers to purchase and run their cattle upon their own land, rather than continue to trespass upon the public domain, even though millions of acres of that domain are hardly worth trespassing upon. Nevada, always associated in the public mind as exclusively mining, continues to yield ten millions of the precious metals annually, which is about equally divided between gold and silver, but while mining will undoubtedly forever be the leading industry, there are other interests which are being developed, and are constantly growing in importance, whereby her citizens are enabled to obtain a livelihood. The increasing importance of Nevada as a stock-raising State has been made more and more apparent, and the capital invested in this industry now aggregates fifteen millions of dollars. There were shipped from the State last year nearly 60,000 head of neat cattle, of the value of two millions of dollars. In those sections of the State adapted to stock-raising the advantages are found to be equal if not superior to any other State or Territory. The beef is juicy and tender, and the San Francisco and Chicago markets have taken all that could be delivered, and at fair prices. Hence men have located in remote corners to become interested in the business, and are doing great good in establishing settlement, in creating taxable property, and all matters incident thereto and indispensably connected therewith. They are endeavoring to make an honest living for themselves. These investments and this work are great factors in enabling Nevada to maintain a State Government without being onerously burdensome to the people. The future welfare and prosperity of the State largely depends upon the prosecution of the public surveys, so that the State can have the benefit of its grants, and sell its lands to those who desire to buy for business purposes. The State has not been a very great object of charity. She has paid the United States twice as much as she has ever received from it. To now deny her the facilities for perfecting her title to what has been given would be an act of injustice unworthy of a great country. The existing condition of affairs is sufficient evidence that the General Government can not do much business in Nevada land matters. The State land laws are so much more liberal, and so much better adapted to the situation, than those of the General Government, that those who desire land prefer to deal with the State. The State sells at $1.25 per acre, within or without the limits of the Central Pacific grant, accepting one-fifth cash down, and allowing the remaining dollar to stand for twenty-five years at six per cent. per annum interest. It is good policy for the State because it otherwise would be compelled to invest the principal of the School Fund in Government or State bonds at a less rate of interest. Hence it does not want the principal paid, and the land is always good security. In the years to come even better terms will be offered by the State. Therefore, under the laws now in force, the State will always have a great advantage over the Government. The Government can do more good by accommodating itself to such a condition of affairs than it can by a policy of obstruction. With all the land that the Government owns it can furnish but few homesteads, and by reserving its land in Nevada for actual settlers it will reserve it through all future ages. It is as true now, as it will be one hundred years hence, that the Government's idea of homesteads, pre-emption, etc., will never be applicable to Nevada, and that the proper settlement of the entire question is for the United States to cede all its land in Nevada to the State. The latter could then survey it as applied for, sell it in large tracts and at very low prices, and in this manner augment the School Fund, but principally enable capital to find investment in this arid region, and thereby encourage settlement and occupation, and create taxable property, whereby the United States would be indirectly benefited, and as far as that is concerned, directly benefited more than by continuing the policy which has so long been in vogue, and which has cost the Government over half a million dollars. When the State has exhausted one-half of its 2,000,000 acre grant there will not be an acre left, upon which there will be a drop of natural water on the surface, so that for exclusively agricultural purposes the entire remainder of the State would not make one good homestead, as that word is taken in the literal acceptance of the term. In justice both to the Government and the State I respectfully solicit an investigation of this subject with the hope that wise counsel may prevail and that what ought to be done shall be done. Meanwhile, I pray you, give the State a chance to keep pace with her more favored sisters, or the time will soon come when we shall not only have to send to California for our Senators, but for everything that contributes to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Very Respectfully,
G. C. POWNING,
U. S. Surveyor-General.

Death of an Aged Mason.

GEORGETOWN, (El Dorado county), June 6th.—There died in Georgetown yesterday evening, June 5th, Captain John Paul Jones Davison, reputed to be the oldest Mason on the Pacific Coast, if not in the United States or the world. He was born in Norwich, Conn., November 9, 1787, and was consequently 98 years and about seven months old at the time of his death. He served as warrant officer in the United States navy in the war with Great Britain in 1812-14, and previously, under Commodore Bainbridge, was with Captain Decatur in the Algerine war with the pirates in the Mediterranean. He was one of the party who helped to burn the United States frigate Philadelphia, which had fallen into the hands of the Bey of Algiers. In 1822 he was a volunteer Captain in the Mexican navy against Spain, and served throughout the Mexican war in the United States navy as warrant officer. He first visited California in 1836, then in 1848, since which time he has been on this coast. He stood erect, was nearly six feet four in height, was without a wrinkle, and his face up to within a few days of his death, possessed the fullness and flush of youth. He came of a very long-lived family, his father and many of his relatives on both sides having passed the century point. Captain Davison was initiated, passed and raised to the degree of Master Mason in St. John's Lodge, Boston, Mass., on the 10th of November, 1810, having been a Master Mason in good standing over 75 years. He was Past Master 44 years, and High Priest 41 years. He was one of the charter members of Georgetown Lodge, No. 25, in 1852, of which he has been ever since a member. The funeral will take place here to-morrow at 2 p. m.

The Treasury Portfolio.

The New York World's Deer Park correspondent says that the possibility of the appointment of ex-Senator H. G. Davis, of West Virginia, as Secretary of the Treasury is being discussed there. He adds that by some it is urged that ex-Senator Davis is in league with the silver men, and that his appointment would be a victory for the friends of silver.

The Birch and Cotton minstrel troupe will have a good house to-night. There will be an entire change of programme, and those who did not go last Friday night should make it a point to be on hand to-night. Dickey Jose will sing his best, and all the troupe will put their best foot forward.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. "BIG SIX."

Monumental Engine Company sell their steamer for $2,500—A Refreshing Exhibition of Magnanimity.

The Virginia Chronicle of Monday says: "J. L. McFarlin, Chief Engineer, accompanied by a committee of the Reno Fire department, visited the Comstock yesterday and purchased from Monumental Engine Company No. 6, their steamer, hose cart and 500 feet of hose. The price agreed on is $2,500. The engine alone cost originally $6,000 and is in as good condition now as the day it landed here. The engine and hose cart will be taken to Reno the latter part of the week via the Geiger grade.

The total membership of "Big Six" now numbers 19. The $2,500 received for the sale of the company's property will be equally divided, entitling each member to a dividend of $131, leaving a balance of $11 to be invested in beer. The members have acted with commendable fairness in notifying all those in arrears for dues that negotiations for the sale of their property were pending, and if they wished to participate in the dividend to settle up.

When it is explained that at the time overtures for the purchase of the steamer were first made, all of the members with the exception of five were liable to expulsion on account of being in arrears on the books for dues and does, the action of the majority under these circumstances, in first notifying the delinquents before expelling them, was an exhibition of magnanimity as refreshing as it is rare in the present age.

The steamer was built in Hudson, N. Y. York, and is rated as second class. It is capable of throwing two powerful streams simultaneously to a height of 100 feet through an inch and a half nozzle, and did effective service before the present head of water rendered the services of a fire engine useless in extinguishing configurations on the Comstock.
